

Data Store Zones

This class manages all the Data store zones created in the cloud. A data store zone consists of several data stores sharing the same permissions and assigned to the same billing plan. By setting up different zones, you can create different tiers of storage with different pricing and performance.